

Thank you for giving me the opportunity for reviewing the paper. The article looks excellent but need some revision. In other words, there is no description of what keywords were used, what databases were searched, what were the exclusion criteria, when was the period covered by the search, and how many records were extracted. These must first be resolved for publication.