

Wording is not clear, did they mean “where each had” rather than which?

Could you expand on this a little more and give a comparison rather than generally.

Could you add how these factors are looked at in other states.

What is the reading level now?

Is there any state that makes this connection and what is the success?