

Thank you for the opportunity to re-submit my article. I have corrected the original submission as directed. I hope this helps. I have added an abstract and made changes to the original submission, including adding implications for social work advocacy and practice as suggested. I have also provided more citations for statements of fact.