

The objectives of the study and the conclusions are clear. References are sufficient as a scientific background for the type of manuscript. I think that this study add something to the existing literature. This article possesses significant potential; however, it requires thorough revision and subsequent resubmission.