

Review comments-1:

The study is performed with transparency and scientific reliability and the results describe important topics in the recovery of persons engaged in strength training in preventing relapse.

The sections follow the IMRAD disposition. The overview therefor is known and good.