

Review Comments-2

After a detailed evaluation, I find that the manuscript is well-aligned with the journal's aims, particularly in its focus on inclusive, non-credit AI education within business contexts. The work is clearly structured, pedagogically sound, and makes a meaningful contribution to curriculum design for technology-integrated business programs.

While I have suggested a few minor revisions (including citation formatting, grammar refinements, and a modest expansion on ethical implications to align more directly with JITI's emphasis on integrity), the overall quality and relevance of the paper are commendable. A few images or some tables would help.

I would appreciate it if you could kindly provide me with a confirmation of receipt and, if available, a certificate of review for my records.
