

Thank you for sending this manuscript. The revisions better situate the article within the current context of CBE in the PT Profession. The edits and visuals provide greater context for the study. I believe this is ready for publication. Is there anything else that you would like me to do? Should I fill out a completed review form?