

Reviewer-2

Barriers exist in the United States which potentially prevent 46 million Americans from having reliable access to healthcare.

The introduction is overly lengthy. The participants selection process and time period are unclear, especially how to select 2 local clinics. In table 1, the age should show as mean + SD. In tables, the authors should show number in addition to percentage. The generalizability of this study is lacking due to only enrolling two clinics.